

We spend 250,000 hours a year improving the performance of UK businesses

ISO 22301

This experience allows us to see first-hand how an ISO 22301 compliant business continuity management system (BCMS) can help ensure your ability to continue operating in an event of a business disruption and deliver real benefits

Business continuity issue	How ISO 22301 helps	Benefits
Business disruption, impacting delivery of products or services to customers Impact of a disruption based on your organization's business continuity risks based on impact not the cause Regular risk assessments, including those affecting your community Each risk will be handled Management involvement in the development and continual improvement of the BCMS Senior management provide the relevant resources to deliver the BCMS Senior management assign and communicate roles and responsibilities Senior management "active engagement" in exercising	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It needs you to consider interested parties affected by the BCMS and their requirements and plan out how, when and who you will communicate with • • Increases confidence in your recovery plans • Shows your clients and supply chain that you are committed to BC • Demonstrates a duty of care to staff, no matter what happens • Cost savings through mitigating impact of disruptions • Improves risk identification and brings about a consistent approach across your organization <hr/> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Strengthens management commitment and ensures BCM is taken seriously • Increases employee engagement and understanding • Makes sure sufficient resources are available for BC testing and delivery • Gives visibility to employees, suppliers and customers of senior management's commitment to BCM 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reduces impact and frequency of business disruptions • Enhances your ability to respond when disruptions do occur • Gives you confidence in your responses and ensures appropriate and agile contingencies • Better stakeholder/interested party relationships

Supporting products and services

Our training tutors can help your teams to